No matter how cheap stocks may look at current levels, it might be a wise move to wait for the storm to pass. Any rescue attempt by the regulators will only serve to provide some of us an opportunity to get out. I had previously thought we will bounce from around 12,200. That area will now be a good resistance. Ramki

Formidable resistance over here. If you get any direct recovery to above 12,000, just get out of your holdings and wait to buy from 9,400 onwards. Ramki
